Recipe courtesy of No Author

Show: The Essence of Emeril | Episode: Passover

Total: 3 hr 40 min
Prep: 20 min
Cook: 3 hr 20 min
Yield: 8 to 10 servings

Ingredients:

- 8 to 10 pound brisket
- Garlic cloves
- 1 quart beef stock (unsalted or low salt)
- 3 large onions, sliced
- 3 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 2 teaspoons Emeril's Original Essence, recipe follows
- 1 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper, to taste
- 1 teaspoon onion powder
- 1 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1 cup ketchup
- 1 cup chili sauce
- 1 cup brown sugar

Essence (Emeril's Creole Seasoning):

- 2 1/2 tablespoons paprika
- 2 tablespoons salt
- 2 tablespoons garlic powder
- 1 tablespoon black pepper
- 1 tablespoon onion powder
- 1 tablespoon cayenne pepper
- 1 tablespoon dried leaf oregano
- 1 tablespoon dried thyme

Directions:

- 1 Preheat oven to 500 degrees F.
- 2 Using a paring knife and your finger, stuff brisket all over with garlic. Place brisket in a baking dish or casserole and bake until browned on top, remove from oven, turn brisket and return to oven until browned on both sides. Reduce oven temperature to 350 degrees F. Add enough beef stock to casserole to come up 1 inch on sides, cover with foil and bake one hour.
- 3 While brisket is cooking, heat a large skillet over medium high heat and saute onions in vegetable oil, stirring occasionally, until caramelized and most liquid has evaporated, about 20 minutes. Set aside.
- 4 Remove brisket from oven after one hour and add caramelized onions and all remaining ingredients, moving meat around to combine ingredients. Cover and continue to bake until very tender but not falling apart, another 2 to 3 hours. Remove brisket to a carving board and slice. Strain reserved cooking liquids and pour over sliced brisket. Brisket may be returned to casserole dish and allowed to cool, then served the next day. (Reheated in oven.)
- 5 Brisket is better if made a day in advance.

Essence (Emeril's Creole Seasoning):

- 6 Combine all ingredients thoroughly and store in an airtight jar or container.
- 7 Recipe from New New Orleans Cooking, by Emeril Lagasse and Jessie Tirsch. Published by William and Morrow, 1993.

Chocolate Matzo

From Diane Forman

4 – 6 Matzo (unsalted)
2 sticks butter (unsalted)
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
¾ cup semi-sweet chocolate chips

Preheat over 375 degrees. Line cookie sheet with silver foil, then parchment paper on top of silver foil. Layer Matzo completely on sheet, break pieces to fit (do not leave any gaps).

Combine butter and sugar in sauce pan at medium heat – stir constantly (2-4 minutes). Cool 2-3 minutes more stirring constantly. Pour mixture over matzo to cover completely. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 10 to 15 minutes. Check every few minutes. Remove from oven and sprinkle with chocolate chips. Let melt then spread chocolate chips. (Can also sprinkle chopped walnuts after chocolate is spread). Cool for a while, then put baking sheet in freezer. Once chocolate set, break into pieces and freeze in baggies. Can cut with pizza cutter or knife.

Chocolate Toffee Matzo Crack – 35 2-inch squares

From Cantor Vera; by Jennifer Segal, adapted from Marci Goldman of Better Baking

Servings: 35 2-inch squares / Total Time: 1 Hour

Ingredients

- 4-5 lightly salted matzos (preferably the Streit's brand - see note below)
- 2 sticks (1 cup) unsalted butter or Passover margarine
- 1 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
- 1 (12-ounce) bag semi-sweet chocolate chips (I use Ghirardelli)
- 1 heaping cup chopped pecans (toasted if desired, for maximum flavor - see note below)
- 1/2 teaspoon sea salt flakes or kosher salt

Instructions

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Line a rimmed baking sheet with heavy duty aluminum foil, making sure the foil goes up and over the edges, and top with sheet of parchment paper.

Cover baking sheet with matzos, cutting and piecing together as necessary to fill the entire pan.

Make toffee: Combine butter and brown sugar in a medium saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly with a whisk, until mixture comes to a boil. (If it looks like it's separating, just keep stirring; it will come together.) Once mixture comes to a boil, continue cooking and stirring for another 3 minutes until foamy and thickened. (Be extra careful -- toffee will be very hot!) Immediately pour toffee over matzos and, using a spatula, spread into an even layer.

Put the pan into the oven and bake for about 10 minutes, or until the toffee topping is crackled and bubbling all over. Remove pan and place on wire cooling rack on the counter. Immediately scatter chocolate chips evenly over top. Wait 3-5 minutes for the chips to soften, then use a thin spatula to spread chocolate into an even layer. Sprinkle with pecans and sea salt. Refrigerate until the chocolate is firm, about 45 minutes. Don't leave it in the fridge too much longer, otherwise it will be hard to cut.

Lift foil overhang to transfer matzo crack onto a large cutting board. Using a large sharp knife, cut into 2-inch squares. Store in an airtight container in the fridge and serve cold.

Note: I love Streit's lightly salted matzos for this recipe (and for breakfast slathered with butter and jam) but any brand will work. If you can only find regular salted matzos, cut back or omit the sea salt at the end. If you can't find matzos, substitute Saltine crackers and omit the salt. You'll need enough to cover the entire sheet pan.

Note: It's a good idea to toast the nuts for maximum flavor but, truth be told, I never bother.

Tropical Charoset

From Paula Breger (adapted from Roberto Santibañez, Rosa Mexicano)

2 tablespoons ground canela*
1 cup sweet red wine, such as Manischewitz

Directions:

Combine all ingredients in food processor and purée. Transfer mixture to large saucepan and simmer over low heat, stirring frequently, until thickened, about 15 to 20 minutes. Cool completely, then chill, covered, until cold. Serve with matzoh or corn tortillas.

The recipe makes a lot. Try halving.

Passover Vegetarian Kishke

From Fred and Rhoda Feldman

A nice Passover side dish, Vegetarian Kishke, is also good added to the top of cholent mixture and cooked with the cholent.

Ingredients:

4 celery stalks, chopped
2 carrots, chopped
1 onion, chopped
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon garlic powder
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1 cup water
2 cups matzoh meal
1/2 cup oil
2 teaspoons parve chicken bouillon powder*

Directions:

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

Add all vegetables to bowl of food processor, and with steel knife, pulse to combine.

Put into a bowl, and mix in matzoh meal, oil and water.

Combine mixture with spoon, and add seasonings

Cut strips of parchment approximately 12" x 15", Shape half or one-third of mixture into a loaf and roll up to resemble an 8" cylinder; twist ends of parchment to seal (should make 2 -3 loafs) Place on a baking pan, and bake for approximately 50 minutes. This works nicely in cholent as well. Lay wrapped cylinders on top of cholent mixture and allow to cook with cholent. If planning to use in cholent pot, make smaller cylinders.

Notes:

*To make it meat, substitute chicken bouillon powder for the parve bouillon powder.

Add additional matzoh meal if too hard to shape; or add a bit more water if it seems to thick.

A bit eggy but not bad.

Carrot Cake (Pareve)

From Fred and Rhoda Feldman

This is the most moist and amazing carrot cake. I've turned this place upside down looking for the cookbook which I took this from way back in the beginning of baking for the community. I'll find it and update this introduction. I have to give credit where credit is due.

Rather than using raw carrots, the recipe calls for cooked carrot puree. This is the secret to the dense moist texture. I made this cake for a birthday party last weekend. The kitchen is kosher for Passover so I needed to make a recipe that could pass for an awesome birthday cake.

Pass it did!

This recipe will make 1 layer. If you want to stack layers, double the recipe. I frosted the cake with my easy buttercream frosting, substituting the 'milk' with orange juice. Beautiful!

Cake Layer:

- 6 eggs separated
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon real vanilla extract
- 2 tablespoons orange juice
- 1/4 cup matzoh meal
- 1/4 cup matzoh cake meal
- 1 1/4 cup ground walnuts
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger

- 1/4 teaspoon allspice
- zest of 1 lemon
- 1 cup carrot puree

'Buttercream' Frosting:

- 1 pound margarine
- 2 pounds powdered sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons real vanilla extract
- 3/4 - 7/8 cups orange juice

Steps:

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Peel enough carrots to make the 1 cup of puree, about 1/2 pound. Put peeled carrots with a little water into a small saucepan with a lid. Cook over medium heat until they are fork tender

Make carrot puree.

In mixing bowl, beat egg whites with salt until foamy. Slowly add 1/2 cup of the sugar and beat until there are glossy stiff peaks. Set aside. Beat egg yolks until very pale. Add the remaining sugar and continue to beat until very thick. Blend the dry ingredients together in a bowl. Add dry ingredients, vanilla extract, orange juice, and lemon zest to the eggs. Mix until just blended. Add carrot puree and mix just until blended. Fold in egg whites being careful not to deflate the eggs.

Fold egg whites until blended.

Spray just the bottom of the pan. Pour in the cake batter. Bake cake until it springs back when gently pressed in the middle, about 40 - 45 minutes.

While the cake bakes and cools, make frosting. Put all ingredients into the mixing bowl and mix until light and fluffy. Add more orange juice if the frosting feels too stiff to spread. Frost as desired.

Passover Charoset – about 4 cups

From Fred and Rhoda Feldman

This is a standard Ashkenazi (Eastern European) recipe, with a little brown sugar added for depth.

Ingredients

- 3 medium Gala or Fuji apples, peeled, cored, and finely diced
- 1 1/2 cups walnut halves, lightly toasted, cooled, and coarsely chopped
- 1/2 cup sweet red wine such as Manischewitz Extra Heavy Malaga
- 1 1/2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
- 1 tablespoon packed brown sugar

In large bowl, stir together all ingredients. Store, covered, at room temperature until ready to serve.

Notes: For the most even texture, we recommend dicing the apples by hand. However, to save time, they can be chopped in the food processor — just be careful not to over process.

PASSOVER APPLE PIE (one of my favorites)
